Bank Of Montreal Shows Gain Of 45 Millions In Deposits

TOTAL ASSETS INCREASE TO $792,772,872 — LIQUID ASSETS AT $533,374,811 ARE EQUAL TO 74.48 PER CENT. OF TOTAL LIABILITIES TO THE PUBLIC

DEPOSITS NOW STAND AT $676,944,866

The confidence reposed by the public at large in the Bank of Montreal is exemplified in an extraordinary degree in the Bank's annual statement for the year ending October 31st just published. This shows deposits of $676,944,866, compared with $630,218,835 at the same date last year an increase of $46,000,000. This increase and a concurrent increase of $48,800,000 in Government and other high-grade securities constitute the outstanding features of the statement.

Liquid Assets have increased to $533,374,811 and are equivalent to 74.48% of all liabilities to the public. Cash in vaults and money on deposit with Bank of Canada stand at $32,711,635 equivalent to 11.55% of public liabilities.

Holdings of government and other bonds and debentures amount to $361,769,848 as compared with $317,936,912 a year ago an increase of over $43,000,000. In keeping with the Bank's policy, the greater portion consists of gilt edge securities which mature at early dates.

The immediately available cash is represented by cash on hand and money on deposit with the Bank of Canada of $32,711,635; notes of and cheques on other banks $27,614,596 and money deposit with other banks of $37,764,631.

Call loans outside of Canada now stand at $18,835,238 down from $32,133,844. The decline may be attributed to the unusually low interest rates that have prevailed in the principal money markets of the world. At the same time call loans in Canada have declined to $4,435,736 from $8,399,657.

Current Loans Lower

While there have been reports of gains in many lines of business current loans have not shown a tendency to increase with the result that loans to manufacturers, farmers and merchants now stand at $234,461,311 down from $243,477,041. This would appear to indicate that many customers have been able to finance the present increase in business from their own resources.

Of special interest is the continued tendency of deposits to expand throughout the country and, as a result total deposits have now gained to $676,944,866 from $630,218,835 a year ago.

An informative feature of the report is contained in the section where the Bank shows that it has total assets of $792,772,872 with which to meet payment of liabilities to the public of $716,107,779, leaving an excess of assets over liabilities to the public of $76,665,093.

Profit and Loss Account

The profit and loss account shows earnings slightly down from the previous year. It also indicates that the Bank's taxes to Dominion and Provincial Government are in excess of $1,000,000.

Profit for the year amounted to $4,007,302, against $4,105,024 in the previous year.

Jacks Win Opening Basketball Game

In the opening basketball game of the season with the Lethbridge Young Liberals, the Union Jacks took the long end of a 19-24 score. In the preliminary game between the Raymond 2nd Ward "M" Men and the High School, the latter won.

Due to removals and transfers, the Jacks players have been somewhat shaken up, and it was a question as to just how much strength the new aggregation could muster in their opening games. However those who took the floor Wednesday night gave a good exhibition for a first game, and while the lineup for the year is not definite, it is certain that a good share of the following players will be in there to do their stuff: Sam Fairbanks, Dean Rolison, Donny Nilsson, Ken Ilague, Gerald Snow, Butler Nelder, Boothe Card, Shirley King and Fred Turner.

The next exhibition will be in Lethbridge there being a series of six exhibition games to be played between these two teams.

BEET PAY LAST WEEK-END

The final payment on 1934 beets made last week of 10c per ton amounted to $16,500.00 and brought the total price up to $5.60 per ton. Monday was also pay day for the factory employees and local stores had a good turnover for the first part of the week.

The mild weather has softened up the frozen ground some and harvesting of the frozen beets is progressing slowly. Officials estimate there remains about 150 acres still in the ground, and everyone is hopeful they can be recovered.

MISSIONARY FAREWELL

A farewell party for Elder Harris Walker, who is leaving next week for Eastern Canada, to labor in the Canadian Mission, will be held in the Second Ward Hall, after Mutual on Tuesday evening next. A nice program has been arranged, and everyone is invited.

JOE E. BROWN will make you laugh till you cry in "ALIBI IKE" at the Capitol next Tuesday and Wednesday. See it by all means.

"LEST WE FORGET" will be at the Capitol Thursday and Friday of next week. Bringing to the screen the grim realities of war, it is recommended by all who have seen it.

If you run short of Christmas Cards, we have a nice selection on hand that will please you and supply your needs in every way. The Recorder.

From the profit taxes to Dominion and Provincial Governments required $1,002,089 leaving for distribution $3,005,212. Of this amount dividends to shareholders took 2,880,000 leaving an amount to be carried forward of $125,212. The net profits of $3,005,212 were equal to 3.92 per cent of capital surplus and undivided profits. After provision for taxes and dividends, the balance not forward increased the balance of profit and loss carried forward to $1,935,033.

Warner Young Lady Wins $100 Prize At Carnival

Amidst the glory and splendor of Monte Carlo, the Raymond Second Ward Annual Carnival started last night with a good crowd present, all in jolly mood, and anxious to spend. From 8 p.m. until 1 a.m. and after, the various games, tables and shooting gallery, etc. were well patronized, and generally kept busy. They run out of turkeys at the shooting gallery, and some of the fellows who won birds had to wait until the following day to collect, when more turkeys were rounded up.

A bevy of beautiful quilts, cushions, blankets, dishes, etc., were on display in the various booths, and provided all the but necessary to keep all the wheels & the bingo table going constantly. Drawing for door prizes took place every 30 minutes, and the lucky ones in this received free spending money for the evening, and most of them turned right around and spent it again.

The side shows and refreshment stands were doing good business, and thrills were there aplenty in "The Guillotine," "Pepper's Ghost," etc., etc. The dance floor always had some dancers on it and sometime was crowded, although the girls seemed to be the center of interest last night. The house will be jammed tonight, when a record crowd is looked for.

The centre of interest, of course, was the drawing of the $100 prize which took place at 1 a.m., and in this drawing Miss Lucille Pyne of Warner was the holder of the Lucky Ticket, and she made a nice interest on her 25c investment. She was not present but was informed of her good fortune during Friday, 1 a.m. Saturday morning, and during Friday night an additional $100 will be given away in Door Prizes.

Four Mentioned For Speakership Of Alberta House

Edmonton, Nov. 26—Speaker of the Legislative Assembly probably will not be chosen until shortly before the first session which opens February 2, Premier Aberhart said Saturday.

The Premier revealed that a straw vote was held during the Social Credit provincial caucus here last week and that although the vote was not decisive four men stood out prominently as potential presiding officers of the house. These were N. E. Tanner, of Cardston, Lucien Maynard of Beaver River, Solon Low of Warner and the Rev. Taylor of Picher Creek. Lethbridge Herald.

BEETS BEING HARVESTED

Due to the spell of mild weather beets are being harvested this week, and on Tuesday beets were used for the first time in the fields since freeze up. The beet are bruised and many of them broken from being taken out of the frozen ground, but they are being sliced on arrival at the mill, and therefore no further loss will take place.

One of the serious aspects of the beet situation is the lack of fall plowing of beet land. Officials estimate that fall plowing results in an additional three tons per acre, and so far this fall no plowing to speak of has been done. However if this kind of weather continues, fields may still be turned over and the wind and weather of winter permitted to work on them.

On Monday next $180,000.00 will go into the mails as part payment on 1935 beets, and this will give the farmers additional revenue to carry on with.

URGE MOTORISTS CHECK OVER CARS FOR WINTER DRIVING

A careful check-over of your motor car at this time of the year in preparing for winter driving is essential, according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Close examination now may eliminate mechanical difficulties or other troubles that might develop during cold weather.

Brakes, tires and lighting apparatus should be given a thorough inspection, just to make certain that they are functioning properly and will continue to do so under winter driving conditions.

Motorists also are warned to be on their guard against the deadly carbon monoxide. There always is danger in running the car in a closed garage.

The approach of cold weather always brings an increased toll of deaths from carbon monoxide. To combat this hazard, motorists are urged to make sure a window of their car is always open and to keep their motors in accurate adjustment so that a minimum of harmful gas will be generated.

The heavy toll of road accidents also serves as a warning to motorists to carry insurance protection. In recent months many members have benefited from the special accident insurance give free with membership in the Alberta Motor Association.

At a special meeting of the City Dads on Monday night, a motion was passed voting $100 towards defraying the expenses of an athletic coach for the winter months, on condition the School Board did the same. We understand that at a special meeting Tuesday forenoon the School Board voted in favor of this move. This makes the realization of this objective one step nearer, and correspondence is awaited now from several prospects before the thing is definitely decided.

The Council also spent a great deal of time discussing fire protection for citizens whose homes are beyond reach of hydrants and hose with the present equipment. A motion was made and passed that the Mayor and secretary and Water Committee commence investigations at once regarding a truck chassis on which a large tank can be mounted, provided with an auxiliary pump, so that this outfit can rush to the blaze with its own water and start working while the big outfit is being made ready and water turned on. A bell for a fire alarm will also be mounted near the Telephone Office, and as soon as an alarm is turned in the bell will be set ringing, so that firemen and others will know there is a fire.

Some little time was spent in discussing hospital and Doctor's contracts, but as the hour was late this was left over until the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Earl were present, asking for consideration from the Town regarding taxes on their home, which was recently destroyed by fire. No action was taken, this also being held over until the regular meeting in December.

ON BUYING AT HOME

During the past we have used considerable space in these columns urging folks of Raymond to Trade at Home. At times we wonder just how interested local business people are in keeping the business at home. We do not question the fact that they would appreciate it but, how much effort do they put forth to get it.

You with all other citizens read the papers. You read the messages from the firms who advertise, and consciously or unconsciously you wonder what is the matter with the firms who do not value business enough to tell their prospective customers of what they have to offer in merchandise. On the other hand in papers from neighboring towns, we read offers of ever sort of merchandise. Articles from 10c. to hundreds of dollars in value. None of them too insignificant to be overlooked, and never the attitude some merchants have of assuming that people know they are in business and know what they have to sell.

We may as well face the situation fairly and squarely. We are faced with highgrade opposition from business houses who cater to customers from everywhere, and they never forget to hold up offers that will induce buyers to come in and spend. Whether we like it or not, there is only one solution to the problem. Business will go where it is invited, and will stay where it is appreciated. Before we get too severe on those who spend their money out of town, a little stock-taking on our part may not be amiss.

First, Are we giving service in dispensing our stock-in-trade to the public? Do we make them feel at home when they come to us? Do we endeavor to satisfy their wishes in the things they buy, or do we expect them to take what we want to give them and like it, whether it is what they want or not? Are our prices competitive? Is our quality up to standard? Do we take the trouble to tell them either verbally or by the printed page that we appreciate their patronage and invite them back again? Do we value business enough to tell them what we have by advertising and to see that they get our message and our invitation to come in?

Each business can answer these questions for themselves. We live in an ever changing world, and what was good practice ten years ago, may be entirely out-of-date now. Despite the fact that you are endeavoring to carry a complete stock in your line, it is very necessary to tell people about it, and to continually remind them in order to keep the thing in their mind.

Here is something for every business man and firm to keep in mind "Business goes where it is invited and stays where it is appreciated."

COLD AIR

It was in the middle of the last century that the fear of vapors arising from marshes and bad drains reached its height. At that time, noxious vapours seemed to offer the most reasonable explanation for the otherwise inexplicable epidemics of diphtheria, typhoid fever and malaria, and other diseases.

Later, came a real dread of night air, as the vapours and gases seemed to be even more deadly at night than in the daytime. And we are not yet rid of this false idea if one may judge from the way some widows are kept closed at night.

People still remain indoors for fear of catching cold or becoming chilled. The chill which often marks the onset of a cold is not due to cold air or to exposure to the body; the chilly feeling which precedes the fever has nothing to do with going out of doors.

Weak people used to be told to stay in at night and to sit in crowds so that, by breathing in the breath exhaled by strong persons they might gain some of the strength of these individuals.

Today, we recognize the value of fresh air. We know that there is no danger in sewer gas or night air. Night air is just as good as day air. Vapours from marshes are to be avoided only if they bring those mosquitoes which spread malaria and yellow fever.

Fresh air, particularly out-of-door air, is good for us. It dilutes the droplets of infection (secretions from the mouth and nose), which are coughed into it by those with colds and other communicable diseases. When we live crowded together there is much greater opportunity for the passage of disease, from one person to another, by droplet infection.

Cool air is stimulating; it increases the metabolism of the body and so more food is used up. Those who want to reduce should exercise in the cool open air. Cool air also stimulates the flow of blood in the membranes lining the nose and other parts of the respiratory tract touched by the air inhaled. This promotes a flow of the secretions with their protective values.

To sit in warm stagnant air is to bank down the fires of life, and will likely lead to a loss of appetite to poor digestion and faulty elimination. It is generally true that better health is enjoyed by those who spend part of each day in some open air activity, even if this is only walking out of doors, as long as the body is not chilled by exposure to cold. You need never be afraid of cold air. Wear just enough clothing to be comfortable at what you are doing in or out doors, whatever the temperature may be at the time. Each one has to decide his clothing needs or himself.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St. Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

FOUNDATION

Science has taught us that we can no longer dismiss the subject of a foundation for makeup with the simple purchase of a vanishing cream. Foundations are now divided into as many types as there are types of skin, and in fact they are even classified for use in a variety of climates.

A foundation cream of liquid does not just lend a delightful mat finish to the skin as a base for makeup; its function is actually one of a protector.

Have you ever noticed how young the skin of the body is, especially where it has the thickest covering of clothes? It is because the corroding effect of sun and wind cannot contact it & nature, forever renewing herself keeps the protected skin always smooth and young. Perhaps there is more than a motive of modesty behind the Eastern woman's convention of wearing a veil over the face; this custom also protects her skin from the drying sun, and the onslaught of rough weather.

Now a beauty foundation is a kind of veil to the skin and is especially needful in extreme weather conditions—either, biting cold, raw winds, or hot sunshine. It shields the delicate skin of the face from the ravages of the elements.

As I have already said, Canadian women must use every precaution against the extremes of climate to which they are subject. And one of the protective aids is, of course proper foundation, especially in winter when winds are so raw and the face chaps easily. Many Canadian women have told me that they are unable to wash their face in winter because it is in a constant state of irritation from the vigors of the climate. In such a case, which is not exactly average, I would of course advise morning and evening cleansing with a pasteurized cream which heals as well as cleanses.

But, above all use a foundation, before going out. There is an excellent one with a rose essence which keeps the skin soft and naturally moist.

PIGS IN COVER

The winter care of pigs causes
no anxiety to the farmer who has adopted the all-year-round cabin. These portable cabins are useful for 365 days in the year and are efficient and economical. They are cool in summer and provide adequate shelter in winter. Built of rough lumber, with securely fastened sides and hinged sections, each cabin has room enough for four or five brood sows and breeding stock of all ages will thrive in the semi-out door life, for the cabins on the advent of winter can be moved to fresh ground or to wherever convenient. Hogs fed in cabins will rarely become crippled, but for this class of stock an open shed with a low straw-covered sleeping berth is better. Both types of cabins are fully described in the "All-year Hog Cabin" pamphlet issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.
The average piggery is difficult to ventilate and therefore damp dampness, impure air, lack of exercise, and over-feeding make a combination that will soon discourage the hog-feeder and relieve him of his stock.
Not so with the all-year hog cabin.

THE NATIONAL EMBODIM-ENT OF NEIGHBORLINESS

We have spoken in these columns of good neighbors in our community of the man who helps a neighbor who has been sick catch up with his work.

We have mentioned the woman who carries in a tray of tasty things to eat. Of those who sit up with the sick—who encourage the jobless and down hearted.

All over the country people are thinking of an organization represented in Raymond which is the national embodiment of neighborliness, the Canadian Red Cross.

There have been years when we have given our dollars to this worthy organization when some of us wondered just what was done with the money.
Of late the radio has kept us better informed concerning neighbors in trouble even though a few hundred miles stretched between.

This past year the Canadian Red Cross has ministered to human need in many cases.
Hurt people, hungry people, homeless people have been helped.

Those working in the local branch give of their time as well as their money to further this great organization.

The rest of us who can possibly spare a dollar should not withhold our membership.

Trouble is brewing in China
as a result of the movement of Japanese troops and the seizure by Japan of the railroad and concentration of troops in Tsin-tsin province.

STATE TO PAY
THE DOCTOR

Hon. I. B. Griffiths, provincial minister of health and public welfare has let it be known that in a small area of Manitoba an experiment that has long been discussed in many countries will be tried out. Persons who are ill will call the doctor as they always have but instead of billing them he will send his bill to proper municipal or provincial authorities. The same will apply in regard to bills for drugs and hospital care.

In this age of compulsory education and vaccination, of compulsory military service why shouldn't the state make sure
